The appropriate extension fee under 37 CFR 1.17(a) is calculated from: (1) the expiration date of the shortened statutory period for reply originally set in the final Office action; or (2) as set forth in (b) above, if checked. Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of the final rejection, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

/Sumati Lefkowitz/            Supervisory Patent Examiner, Art Unit 2629

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant's arguments are not persuasive. The Examiner clearly explained in the final rejection how the combination of Hatakeyama et al. and Kanevsky et al. teaches the limitation Applicant argues is not taught by the prior art. Hatakeyama et al. teaches all the limitations except the "concurrently touched" portion. Kanevsky et al. is merely relied upon to teach a virtual keyboard that continuously monitors, updates, and maintains the relationship between certain keys and certain fingers. Combining the continuous updating feature of Kanevsky et al. with Hatakeyama et al. modifies the operation of Hatakeyama et al. such that "previously touched" becomes "concurrently touched" thereby meeting all of the claim limitations.
